To whom It May Concern,

From CAD to CAM – Protecting the Nation - Premium Fire Fighting and Rescue Equipment Experts

Aquila Corp is a leading distributor of premium rescue equipment to fire services, emergency services, police and other industries across Africa. Our extensive ranges of products have been carefully sourced from reputable and trusted manufacturers, both local and international.

We have a well-established reputation for premium service and support, we're well known for matching premium products to specific client applications with all the brands we represent.

In order to meet our clients ever changing needs, we found ourselves needing to not only distribute products but to also DESIGN and MANUFACTURE our own truly South African products for our Customers.

Since we only partner with World Leading Brands, we knew that Autodesk was the correct solution for our needs.

We engaged with Modena OneSolve for a solution, who with their team of experts were able to guide us in the right direction to deliver the outcomes on both CAD and CAM that we needed in the most efficient way.

The solution to our needs was FUSION 360 with specific focus on the machining element.

The Modena OneSolve Team were onsite to assist us in getting everything setup as well as by delivering customised onsite Machining training for our users.

The result is that we now have a very cost effective an efficient tool that allows us to Design and Manufacture products for our clients that we were not able to do before. Since we are now Manufacturing our own products in addition to supplying other brands, we have seen a positive impact on our profitability.

We look forward to continuing the relationship with Modena OneSolve and would recommend them as a trusted business partner.

Kind regards

Mr CJ Muller
